Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Directors
Danny Thomas Investments, Inc.
Little Rock, Arkansas

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Danny Thomas Investments, Inc. (a subsidiary of The Danny Thomas Co.) as of November 30, 2003 and 2002, and the related statements of income, stockholder's equity, cash flows, changes in liabilities subordinated to general creditors and net capital computation for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatements. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. We did not examine procedures for safeguarding securities due to the fact that the Company does not handle securities.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Danny Thomas Investments, Inc. as of November 30, 2003 and 2002 and the results of its operations, cash flows, changes in liabilities subordinated to general creditors and net capital computation for the years then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and comply in all material respects with the applicable accounting requirements of the Securities Act of 1934 and the published rules and regulations thereunder.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting and reporting policies of the Company conform with generally accepted accounting principles and practices within the securities industry. The policies that materially affect financial position and the results of operations are summarized as follows:

- A. Operations - The Company is a registered broker-dealer operating in the State of Arkansas. Its primary source of revenue is fees and commissions from the brokerage of commercial and residential mortgage loans.
- B. Use of estimates - The preparation of the accompanying financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that directly affect the results of reported assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.
- C. Income taxes - Amounts provided for income taxes are based on income for financial statement purposes. In 2003 and 2002, the Company filed a consolidated income tax return with The Danny Thomas Co. These entities allocate income tax expense on a separate return basis.
- C. Cash equivalents - For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, Danny Thomas Investments, Inc. considers all highly liquid cash investments to be cash equivalents.
- E. Property and equipment - Property and equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation is provided for by the straight-line and accelerated methods over the useful lives of the related assets.

2. Income Taxes

Income taxes consists of the following:

	2003	2002
Current expense (benefit)	$ (531)	$ 940

The reasons for the difference between the actual tax expense and tax computed at the federal income tax rate are as follows:

Variances Caused by Enacted Rate Changes

The income tax provision differs from the expenses that would result from applying federal statutory rates to income before income taxes to reflect the benefit of an enacted tax rate reduction.

3. The Mortgage Center

During the year ended November 30, 1994, the Company began operating a new division under the registered fictitious name of "The Mortgage Center." The new division's activities consist of processing home loan applications for an out of state lender. The Company will not be the lender or service any loans.

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT'S REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL

NOVEMBER 30, 2003

Independent Accountant's Report on Internal Accounting Control

To the Board of Directors
Danny Thomas Investments, Inc.
Little Rock, Arkansas

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Danny Thomas Investments, Inc. for the year ended November 30, 2003, we considered its internal structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by Danny Thomas Investments, Inc. that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computation of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)11 and the procedures for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and the transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the structure to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of the design and operation of policies and procedures may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions.

Danny Thomas Investments, Inc.

Independent Accountant's Report on Internal Accounting Control

However, we noted no matters involving the accounting systems and control procedures that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at November 30, 2003, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.
